Loved 1 and 2, but 3 was all over the place

I truly enjoyed the most of the series until part 3. The issue I had was the flow. It seemed rushed and it didn't tie loose ends. What happened to Maria? Rahmeek lied about not knowing her to Bella and when Maria went to the bathroom to confront Bella. Although, she never told Bella that she was the woman that Rahmeek cheated with, we never heard about her again. What was the point of that whole scene of nothing was going to happen? It ended with Bella telling Rahmeek about the weird confrontation in the bathroom and him thinking that he needed to get rid of Maria before she becomes a problem. That was how that ended and it didn't make sense. Why did there have to be a recanting of Reed's diary twice? Or even the story of how Bella and Rahmeek met. I had to do a lot of skimming through pages because it was just too much stuff that didn't need to be explained again. We already know. Then Bella's pregnancy term period didn't make sense. I don't even want to talk about the grammatical or mist irked character name errors. I'm usually somewhat ok with that, but there was so many. I'm sorry I'm not trying to knock this book, but I was so excited and then let down with how it was written. I hope patience is taken in witting about Reed and Keem. I like the author's writing style and will read her future books. I just wish the last one was not rushed, but it did end well with the main couples.

My Rant.

Ok so let me start off by saying that you Mercy B are very talented. I really enjoyed reading this series, I gave it 3 stars because I felt like the ending wasn't really about meek and Bella. I would've liked to know how she dealt with being married vs being the girlfriend, and she was pregnant the whole book but never had the baby. Too many unanswered questions.

The perfect ending to an amazing series. I was in my feelings about Roc but I'm glad everything worked out in the end. I'm happy everyone got their HEA and I can't wait for Reed and Keem's spin off. For her to be so young she held him down while he was in a coma. Great job!!
